

If the departure time of my flight was changed after my checkin, passing aviation security control and passport control for up to several hours, I am waiting in the departure area

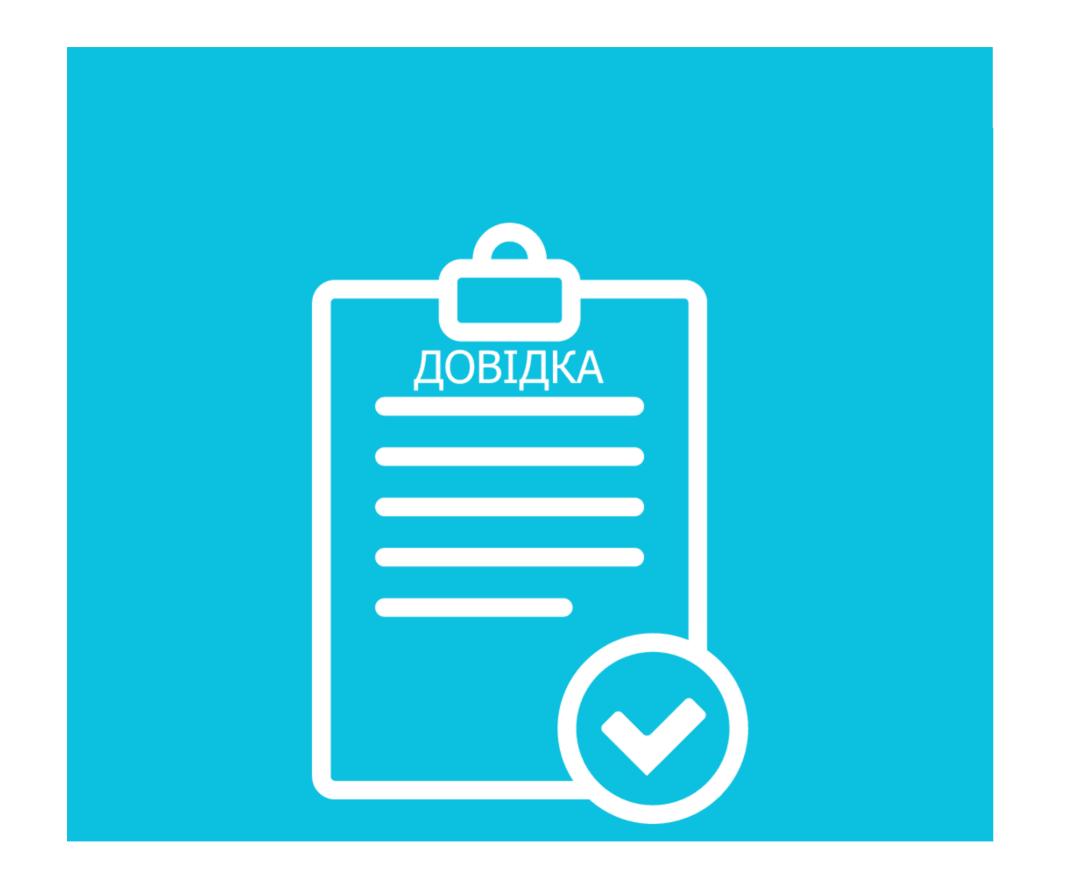

All the necessary updated information I can get from the Timetable boards

The Timetable boards are on the walls and columns of the departure area

I can ask the representative of my airline for more detailed instructions

